

Hi tofurkeys!

Welcome to the 31st issue of the A+ Bee! Here you will find a mathtastic Mystery Solver, a Tarot to get you through the fortnight, a too-real venn diagram, and so much more! Settle in and let's get beezy.

Tarot for the Fortnight

by Beth

Two of Swords
(From Thea's Tarot)

What's with the blockade? Are you feeling threatened? Or just need a little peace and quiet to think? Sometimes you just have to take a little time out to focus on what's happening inside your head and shut out the noise - but beware the walls you're building don't shut out those who would help and support you.

Staff Spotlight: KaeLyn

Sometimes I start fires.
Mostly I just hug my cat.
Who wants a pizza?!

ATTENTION

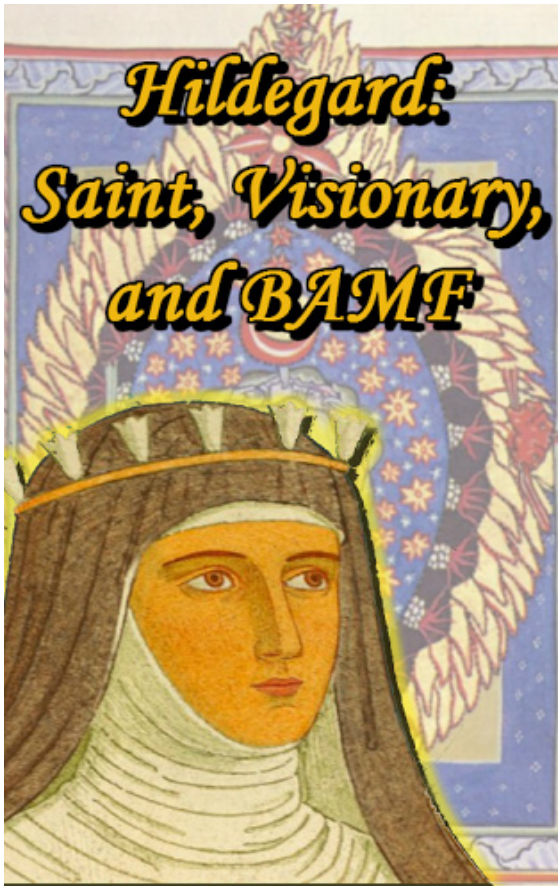

MYSTERY-SOLVERS:

A local LGBT non-profit recently received a grant to take a group of students to see a Broadway show! Students had the tough choice of seeing either Fun Home or Hamilton (lucky bastards). Unfortunately, the person filling out the grant's qualitative benchmarks forgot how many people saw each show. Each ticket for Fun Home was $160, and each ticket for Hamilton was $180. If the group spent a total of $5180 on tickets, and there were 30 people on the trip, how many people saw each show?
