Four of Bones, from the Wooden Tarot

What things in your life do you value the most? And to what lengths will you go to protect them? Would you build up a great fortress to prevent anybody getting so much as a glimpse? Or do you look for gentler ways to protect what is yours? The Four of Bones suggests that this is a good time to renegotiate your own boundaries. You can keep yourself safe without shutting people out, but you don't have to give yourself away either. It's possible to flourish and grow in the middle ground.
